In the Spotlight

Community College of the Air Force

CCAF, the largest community college in the world and the only one in the Department of Defense, was activated in 1972 to gain academic recognition for technical training conducted by Air Force schools. The college offers 66 degrees in five areas: aircraft and missile maintenance, electronics and telecommunications, allied health, logistics and resources, and public and support services. Visit the CCAF home page

Peterson's Air Force Education Resource Center

Peterson's and the U.S. Air Force are proud to introduce your launching point to education and career success. You have free access to comprehensive content to help you find the right educational program, prepare for an important exam, and plan your career. Whether you're heading back to school or into the workforce, Peterson's can help. Visit the site

Search military-friendly schools!

Servicemembers and veterans who are interested in earning their bachelors or masters degree can find schools that accept their military benefits and give credit for military experience through Military.com's School Finder. The finder lists military-friendly schools and helps military personnel receive free information on various programs easily. The School Finder is free to use and is available online.
